- Brainstorming - We will take your ideas and develop them into viable business opportunities.
- Biblical Business Principles - You will learn the business principles necessary to start any business in any field.

Thank you very much for offering this workshop. It gave me so much to think about. I will be using what I learned here for the rest of my life and hopefully building upon it.
Katie Saunders (Student)

- Christian Based - This workshop is built around the need to glorify God in whatever business you decide to do. Stephen is currently attending seminary and has a passion for helping families reach their potential in Christ.

The workshop was very practical and relevant. Excellent use of examples and illustrations. Great Job!
Jack Van Deventer (Parent)

- Open Your Child's Mind - Once your child gets a taste of becoming an entrepreneur, there is no telling how far he will go!

Stephen Beck is a Christian business owner who teaches families how to start online and offline businesses. Feeling the call to enter full-time Christian ministry, Stephen shut down his lucrative construction company in Texas and moved his family to a small seminary in Moscow, Idaho. Wanting a business that he could take anywhere in the world while working from home, he and his wife started an online homeschool curriculum store and later, FamilyEbiz, a company designed to teach families how to start online businesses.

Stephen is the author of A Father's Stew: The Biblical Integration of Family, Work and Ministry. He and his wife, Kerry, are popular speakers at homeschool conventions across the country.
